

MY 20-YEAR PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT PLAN (2025 - 2045)

Name:

Current Age:

Age by 2045:

Genesis 13:14-15 (NKJV) – 14 And the LORD said to Abram, after Lot had separated from him: "Lift your eyes now and look from the place where you are—northward, southward, eastward, and westward; 15 for all the land which you see I give to you and your descendants forever.

Habakkuk 2:2-3 (NKJV) – 2 Then the LORD answered me and said: "Write the vision and make it plain on tablets, That he may run who reads it. 3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time; But at the end it will speak, and it will not lie. Though it tarries, wait for it; Because it will surely come, It will not tarry."

God first showed Abraham what his future could be like. He then asked Abraham to take action to possess the future. He also told Habakkuk to clearly write the vision. Similarly, we can envisage our future and write down the steps we want to take to get there.

What kind of future do you see for yourself?

This planning guide is designed to help you plan the next 20 years of your life. You can amend it or use it as it is. You can also go online or research into other available formats. Whatever happens, take up the challenge of planning your future.

Start with your 20-year goals and work your way backwards. You can carve out a 15-year plan, a 10-year plan, a 5-year plan, and finally a one-year plan to get you started.

No plan is perfect. You cannot control all the variables of your life. However, your plan can be like the navigating instruments of a pilot. When the weather changes or turbulence sets in, it will help you keep your eyes on your intended destination and find your way.

Whether you plan for the future or not, the future will become your reality in time. Take time to carefully plan ahead.

In planning for the next 20 years, think carefully about these four questions. They provide a framework for setting your major goals. In the next 20 years:
